405 Total Meeting Hours Enter the total meeting hours for this ILTAG group. Sum the total number of hours this group met for the month. If there were 4 meetings at 2 hours each, you would enter 8 Total Meeting Hours. If the meeting hours varied for the month, add them together, i.e. Meeting A = 1.5 hours, Meeting B = 2.0 hours and Meeting C = 3.0 hours. For this example, summed, the Total Meeting Hours would then be reported here as 6.5.

- 603 % of personnel hours spent on preventative maintenance $X = (\text{PM Hours} / (\# \text{ of Staff} \times 173.3)) \times 100$. Run the POM report "Work Order Summary," capture the total number of available staff located on the total line under "# of staff." Multiply this figure by 173.3 (the average number of working hours in a month for 168/176 schedule). Treat this as 'available hours' for the month. Capture the total under 2 for "Preventative Maintenance." Divide the "Preventative Maintenance hours' by the 'available hours,' then multiply the figure again by 100 to arrive at the percentage. The SAPMS report used in this calculation - the "POM" report - does not associate hours worked with the month the work was completed, but rather SAPMS associates the hours worked in the month that the PM work order ticket was closed out. A delay in recording the closure of a ticket or the closure of a number of large, multi-month ticket may introduce some skewing in the percentage. In an extreme case, the hours worked on tickets closed in a given month may exceed available personnel hours.

Staff may, at any point, determine the situation can be resolved without the use of force and terminate the use of force process. This policy, in conjunction with related procedures and training, defines staff responsibilities and requirements concerning the use of force. This policy will assist staff in identifying when and how much force is appropriate under different circumstances, ensure that supervision, monitoring, and evaluation of the use of force is consistent with procedures and training, and ensure the investigation of possible unnecessary or excessive use of force. Staff found culpable of violations of the Use of Force Policy will be subject to disciplinary (preventive, corrective, or adverse action) procedures.
